

A photograph of construction workers on a building site at sunset. Two workers in the foreground are silhouetted against the bright orange and yellow sky. They are wearing hard hats and safety gear. In the background, there are construction materials like rebar and wooden forms. A white crosshair graphic is on the left side of the image.

ECONOMIC PROSPECTS, POLICY, AND POTENTIAL

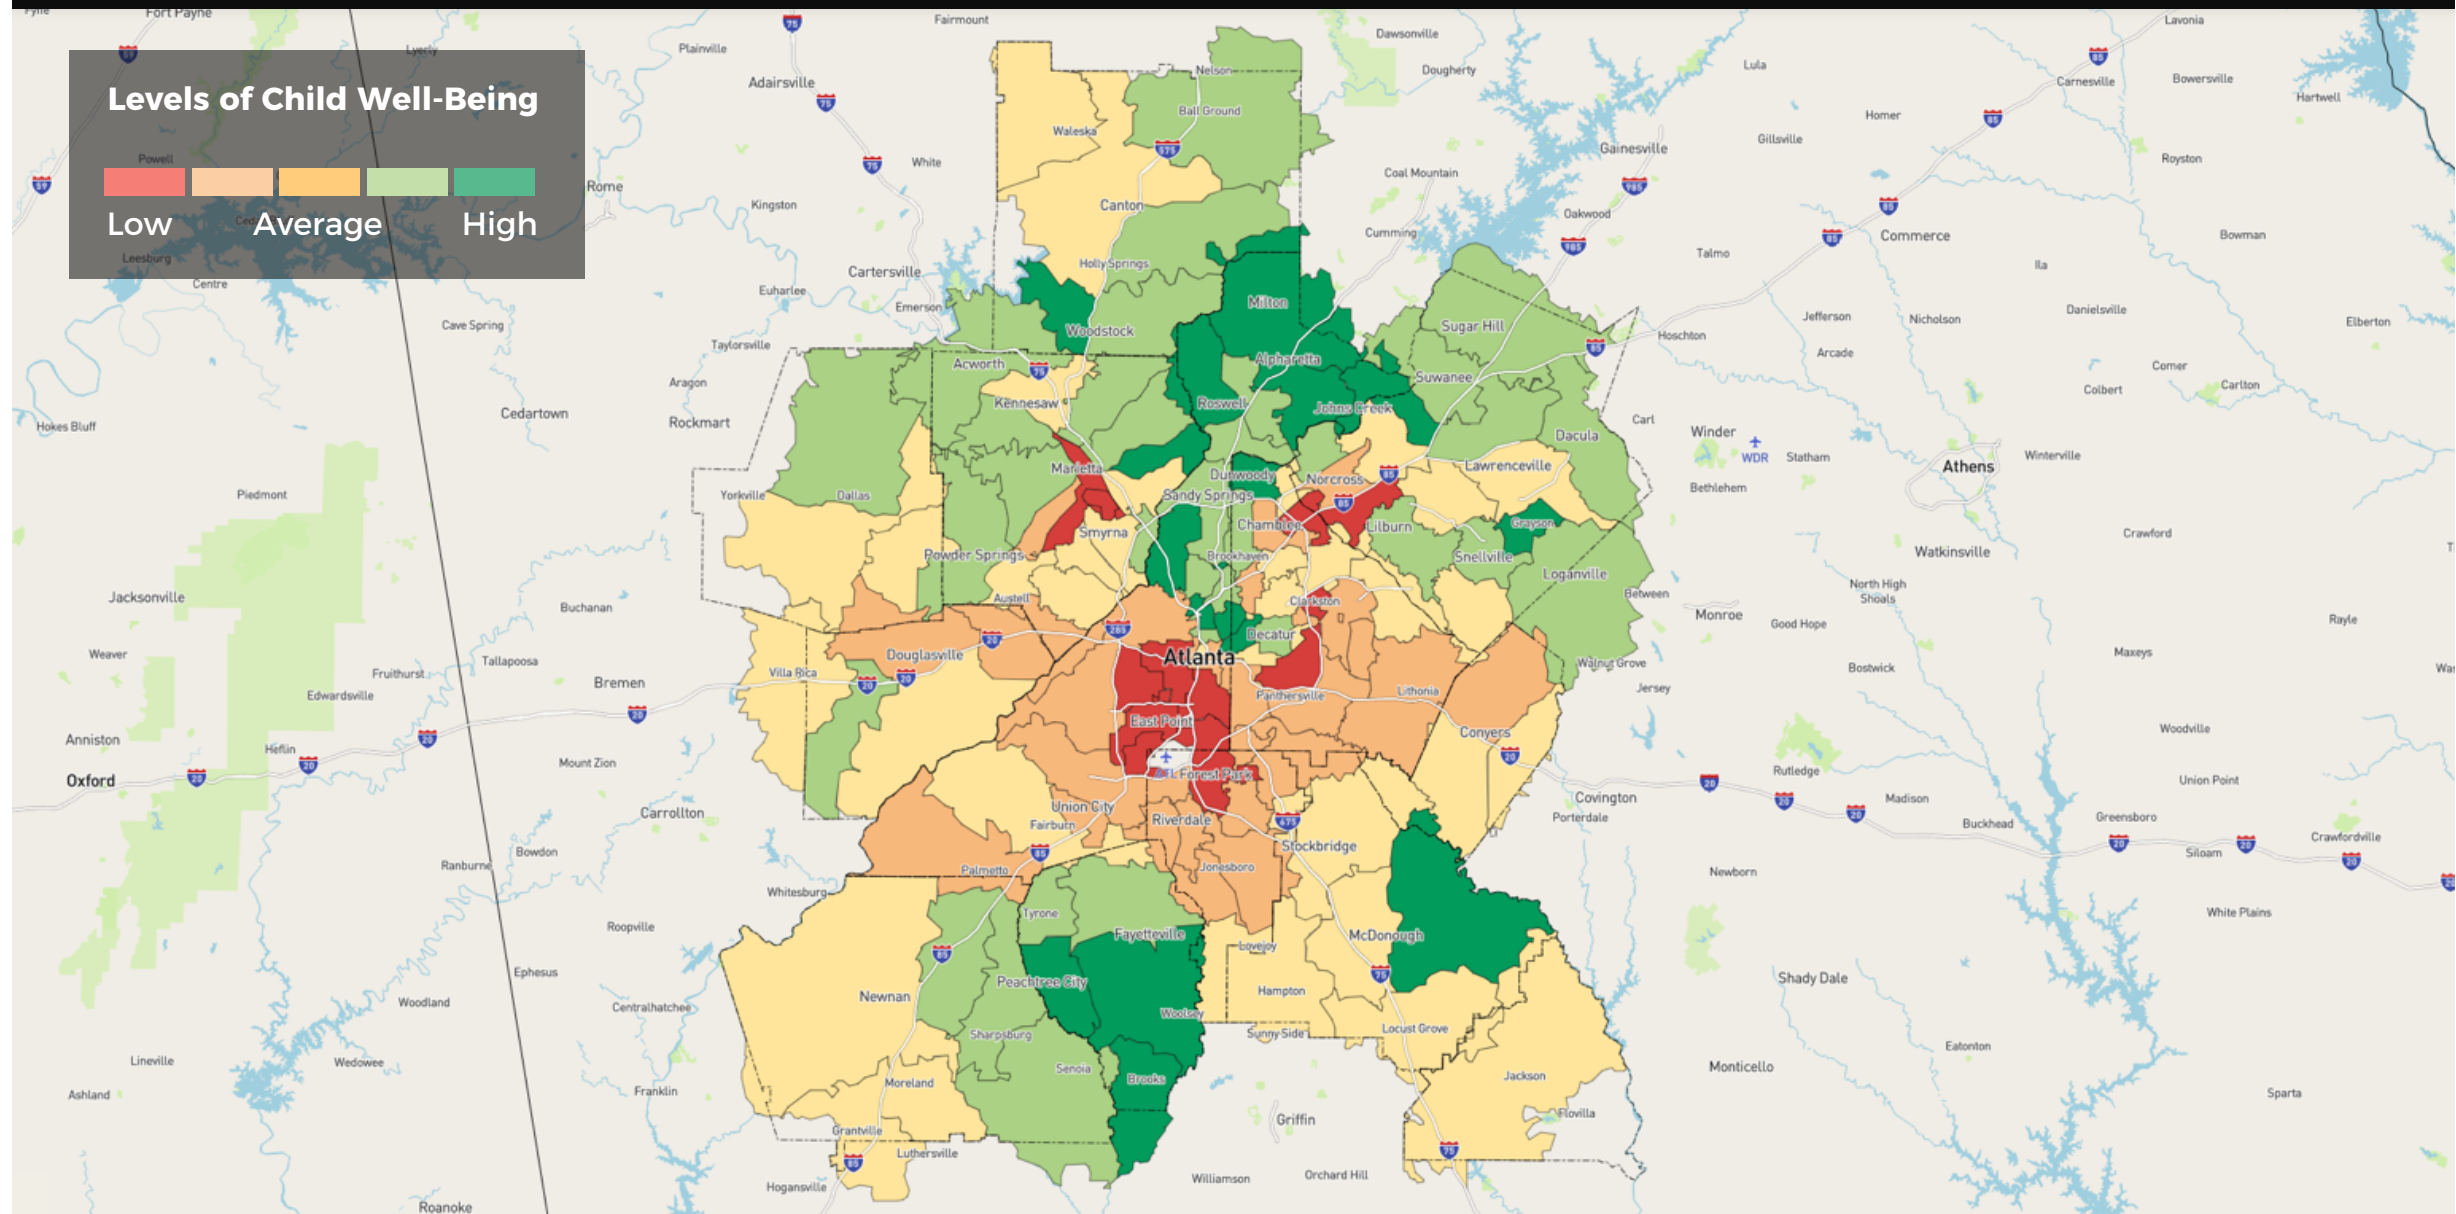

Raphael Bostic

President and CEO | Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK of ATLANTA

WWW.UNITEDWAYATLANTA.ORG/CHILD-WELL-BEING-MAP/

CENTER FOR WORKFORCE AND ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY

CENTER HOME WORKFORCE CURRENTS ABOUT US AROUND THE FED DATA TOOLS EVENTS

Our center focuses on employment policies and labor market issues that affect low- and moderate-income individuals. It acts as a bridge between research and practice, connecting researchers, businesses, and policymakers with innovative approaches to creating economic opportunity through education and employment. The center also contributes to economic research and monetary policy discussions by tracking labor market trends affecting low- and moderate-income workers.

Investing in America's Workforce

Improving Outcomes for Workers and Employers

Discover how businesses, government, nonprofits, and others have reframed workforce development as investments in opportunity and competitiveness.

Opportunity Occupations: Well-Paying Jobs for Middle-Skill Workers

Workforce Currents probes opportunities and pay for workers without college degrees.

Engaging Workforce Development

Find ways financial institutions and workforce development organizations can partner to enhance programming through the Community Reinvestment Act.

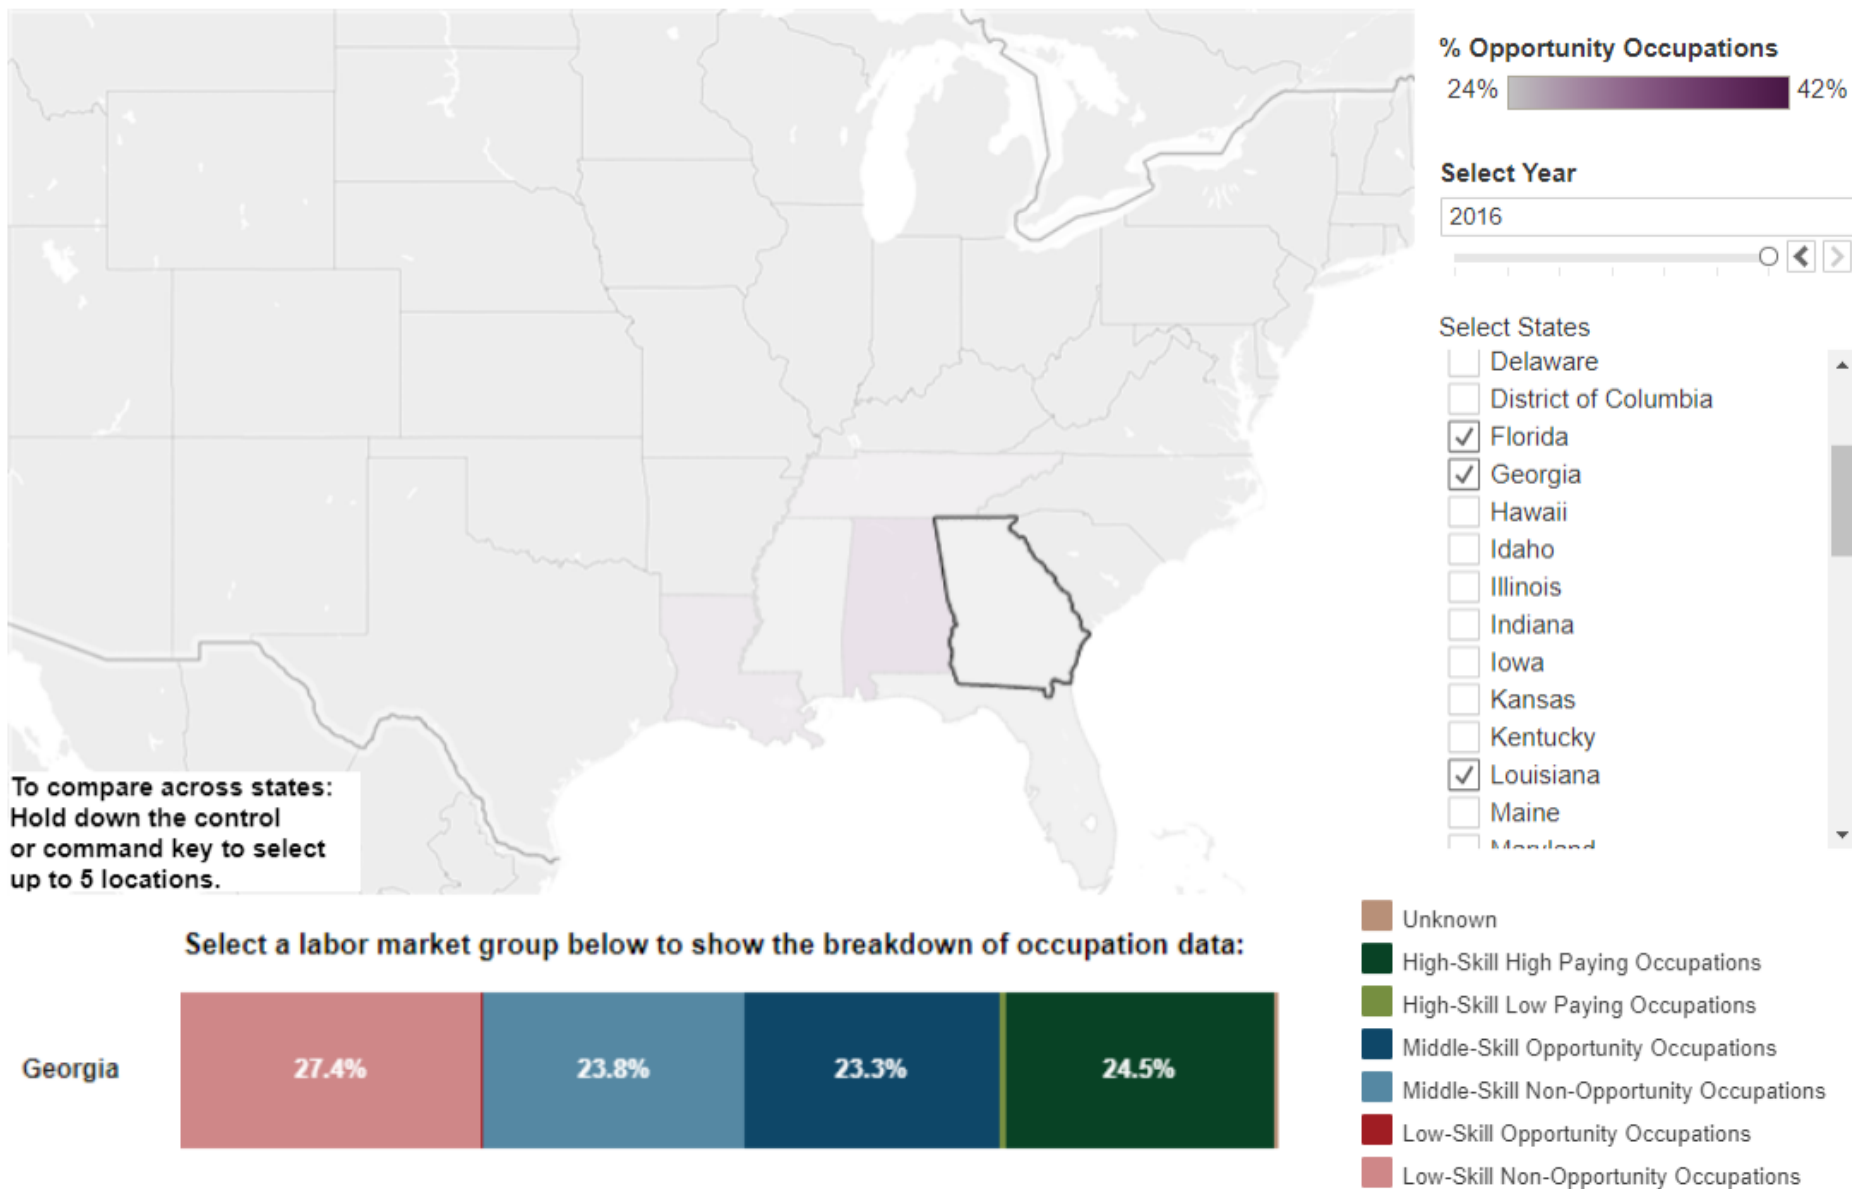

Data Tools

Explore data tools from across the Federal Reserve System that can inform workforce development and employment opportunities.

The Fed's Role in Changing Opportunity

Atlanta Fed President and CEO Raphael Bostic, in an October 6, 2017, speech at the Investing in America's Workforce Conference in Austin, Texas, discusses the Fed's role in expanding economic opportunity for low- and moderate-income workers.

A photograph of construction workers on a rooftop at sunset. The workers are silhouetted against the bright orange and yellow sky. Rebar is visible on the roof surface.

THANK YOU

+ FRBATLANTA.ORG

Connect With Us!

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK of ATLANTA